GRACE REFORMED CHURCH was established in Rapid City in 1992 as a member congregation of the Reformed Church in the United States (RCUS). Founded in 1725 by German immigrants seeking religious liberty, the RCUS takes its name from the 16th Century Protestant Reformation (October 31, 1517), when the Christian Church returned to the Bible alone as God's inspired Word, and to the gospel of salvation by grace alone, through faith alone, in Jesus Christ alone (see www.rcus.org for more info).

"The earliest and most influential settlers of the United States – the Puritans of England, the Presbyterians of Scotland and Ireland, the Huguenots of France, the Reformed from Holland and the Palatinate [in Germany] – were Calvinists, and brought with them the Bible and the Reformed Confessions of Faith. Calvinism was the ruling theology of New England during the whole Colonial Period" (Philip Schaff, History of the Christian Church, vol. 8:vi).

“Most of the economic, political and personal freedom and prosperity that people enjoy today is rooted in the Reformation. Before it, people were enslaved to an all-powerful Church with a false teaching about salvation, and were at the mercy of government that ruled mostly according to the laws of men than of God. The basic biblical principles were: 1) The primary authority of God’s word in the Bible, 2) Justification of sinners only through faith in Christ, and 3) The priesthood of all believers no matter what their office or occupation in this world” (Rev. Robert Grossmann, The Protestant Reformation and World History).
